WHO NOW WILL MAKE OUR CUL-
LEARY?

The McKinley tariff caused a diminution in the exports of Sheffield cutlery during the month of January to the extent of nearly fifty per cent.—London Manufacture and Inventor, March 20.
The American people continue to use just as many knives, scissors and razors as they ever used, however, and they are of just as good quality, too. Where will they come from? From American factories which employ American labor, of course. Do American workmen grasp the idea?

The decision of the Chicago court that the wife can recover damages from the husband in a civil suit should be somewhat of an encouragement to matrimony. In the case in question the wife asked $20,000 damages for slander. If the man has property, he must be decent with his tongue about the house or be required to depart a share to the wife. Women are getting their rights.

King Humbert is said to cause American caricaturists picture him as a monkey instead of the impressario in a hand organ rendition of Italian opera. The king is too sensitive to dilly with American politics. He should remember that in this country the monkey is far more popular than either the hand organ or the man who turns the crank.

A grocer in Massachusetts has been fined, under a state law, $50 for giving a present to every purchaser of $5 worth of goods. The case will go to the supreme court. It seems absurd that his law should be construed to prohibit giving presents as one does. As well apply it to the gift a man gives his intended bride.

The statement is made on the best of authority that one of the largest purchasers of tin plate in this country has lately signed a contract with foreign manufacturers for his supply of tin plate with the new duty deducted from the price. The question of who pays the tariff is rapidly finding an answer in the complaints of European manufacturers.

An Iowa judge decides that freight originating in Iowa and destined for an Iowa point, but which passes through a portion of another state, is interstate traffic. In the eyes of that judge a technicality is far superior to either a precedent or a principle.

The regularity with which the cable announces that one European nation or another is massing troops on the frontier is really tame. Isn't it time to turn them into hollow figures or execute some other military maneuver?

Chicago women may have beaten the Florida women in number of husbands, but she has tutored a new species of pleasure into the ordeal in having four or nine former husbands present to witness the sacrifice of the last victim.

Deafness Can't be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that we cannot cure by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. Write to J. C. Hooper & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75 cts.

Stanley Is Governor of Congo.
BRUSSELS, April 15.—The Etrole Belge says that Henry M. Stanley has been appointed governor of the Congo state.

During the epidemic of La Grippe last season Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, proved to be the best remedy. Not only the quality but low price makes Zeigler's shock a notable one.

SOME WELL KNOWN FACES.

A Great Scientist.

HERBERT SPENCER.
Herbert Spencer, whose great series of works on evolution and sociology is now nearly completed, was born in Derby April 27, 1820, and was a natural philosopher at the age of sixteen. He was also a mathematician, and that year invented a peculiarly ingenious theorem in geometry, which was published at once, and excited much comment. For four years he was a civil engineer, then turned to the life of a philosopher and political writer. Since then his works are his history.

FATAL WRECK.

Disastrous Mishaps to Trains in New York and North Carolina.

ALBANY, N.Y., April 15.—A fatal wreck occurred on the Delaware & Hudson railroad, between Worcester and Cobleskill, Monday. A fast freight, running at the rate of 35 miles per hour, collided with a gravel train, wrecking the engine of the freight and several box cars. Attached to the gravel train was a car containing five Italians. When the collision occurred the car was thrown forward into the center of the wreck and the mass took fire. Two of the Italians were killed outright and three were injured. As the flames approached the car the cries and groans of the imprisoned workmen were heard rending. Owing to the position of the car and the intense heat the rescuers were unable to reach them and were obliged to watch them slowly burn to death before their eyes. The names of the Italians are unknown, but it is understood they were all men of families.
ASHEVILLE, N.C., April 15.—A freight train collided with a work train Monday afternoon on the Asheville & Spartanburg road, between Tyrone City and Monroe. Five loaded train hands were killed and several others hurt.

STRIKING COOKS EVICTED.

Furniture of the Disastrous Workmen Thrown into the Street.

SCOTTSDALE, Pa., April 15.—The dreaded eviction which had been threatened here for a long time began Tuesday in a most determined way. The Ager and McEnery families at Morgan were thrown out of their houses and their furniture piled in the road, while a great crowd of strikers silently watched the proceedings. The two men who were evicted had been conspicuous as taking an active part in all labor demonstrations. Evictions were also carried out at Summit and Adelaide, and the scenes are likely to be repeated a hundred times, as the managers of the great Frickie firm say strikers cannot live in company houses. The operators say the strikers are wavering and breaking at a number of points, and eviction notices have been fairly showered at the Painter and other works. This is a powerful weapon in the hands of the operators, and it looks as if they are now laying their last and winning card against the men.

An infuriated crowd of foreign strikers attacked the houses of several men who had returned to work at the Trotter plant. Windows and doors were smashed and the inmates were obliged to appeal to the deputy sheriff for protection. The strikers say women led the mob.

The amounts are charged against the states named for arms, etc. Other indebtedness of states to the general government may be found, and other departments are being examined in order to discover any balance states may owe the general government.

Left Many Debts Behind.

ST. LOUIS, April 15.—It has become known that Page McPherson, of the firm of McPherson, Switzer & Co., general brokers on Third street, has been missing from this city since last Friday. ## AS PORTER VIEWS IT.

The Minister to Italy Thinks There Is No Danger of His Being Recalled.

LONDON, April 15.—The Standard's Rome correspondent said that he had an interview Monday with Mr. Porter, the United States minister to Italy. "Mr. Porter," says the correspondent, "was silent within the limits of official etiquette, but was extremely courteous. He said that he had not received any orders of recall, and that there was no reason to believe that he would receive any. Both governments look forward to a peaceful settlement of the New Orleans difficulty. The only action open to the Washington government has been initiated, though Mr. Blaine has not yet sent an official note of the fact."

The Rome correspondent of the Daily News telegraphs that the Italian government has not received Secretary Blaine's note, the alleged text of which several papers have already published. The correspondent adds that should the note be really formulated in the terms given by the newspapers, in question the government would probably decline to answer it, but would allow it to be judged by public opinion.

ROME, April 15.—In the chamber of deputies Tuesday Sig. Malmusi gave notice of his intention to ask the government what satisfaction had been asked for or obtained in the case of the Italians lynched in New Orleans. Sig. Luchini also gave notice that he would call attention to the action taken by the government in this matter.

BISMARCK ON THE FAIR.

He Thinks All German Manufacturers Should Take Part in It.

BERLIN, April 15.—The Hamburger Nachrichten publishes an interview with Prince Bismarck in the course of which, referring to the Chicago fair, the ex-chancellor said:
"It will be a great pity and a mistake if German manufacturers allow their dislike of the McKinley law to influence them against taking part in the exhibition. Germany and the United States have always been good friends. The two countries neither have conflicting territorial interests nor political rivals. Besides, Germans and Americans are bound by ties of amity, kinship and common interests. Therefore it will be regrettable if Germany is not fully represented at the exhibition."

Baseball.

American association games on Tuesday resulted as follows: At Baltimore—Baltimore, 2; Athletic, 0. At St. Louis—Columbus, 9; St. Louis, 8 (eleven innings). At Washington—Washington, 7; Boston, 5. At Louisville—Louisville, 8; Chicago, 3. After twenty-five years of earnest and sincere devotion to the interests of baseball Mr. A. G. Spalding has severed his active relations with the national game. At a meeting of the directors of the Chicago club held in this city Tuesday Mr. Spalding tendered his resignation. Mr. James A. Hart, who has been secretary of the Chicago club for about eighteen months, was elected president by a unanimous vote.

TRACKS MAKE TROUBLE.

Aldermen Demand the Restoration of Streets.

"RUN CARS OR MOVE RAILS."

This in Brief is Likely to Be the Hint Given to the Street Railway Company—A Sunday Morning Surprise Not Improbable.

One of the most important questions now being discussed by the property holders in Janesville, especially those holding property along the line is, "What shall be done with the street railway track?"

There are many complications surrounding this problem.

At the special meeting of the common council last Monday evening Alderman McKay entered the chamber just as the council adjourned—

"What?" he exclaimed, "am I too late? I want to introduce some kind of an order for the removal of the street railway track, or to compel the company to put their track in condition and resume operations. It is high time the council took hold of this matter."

The council had adjourned, and the alderman did not further reveal the import of the measure he intended to bring before the council.

It is evident, however, that people have been imposed upon by the Janesville Street Railway Company to a full measure, and that the imposition will be tolerated no longer. It was demonstrated some months ago that the road was not in more as a speculation, anticipating quick results, than for the benefit or convenience of our people. As a speculative enterprise it was a flat failure, and its benefit and convenience to our people is now most forcibly realized.

The line was abandoned early last fall, since which time the track has been buried most of the time in snow and mud. Now again the track is in numerous places off grade, making it dangerous for the passing vehicles.

One important question which comes up at this time: "The company having abandoned the road, who owns the track?"

"The road having been abandoned, is the franchise still in force?"

Two and a half years ago, when the company abandoned the Monterey line and moved the track, Mayor Winans informed the council that the company had no legal right to remove that track without the consent of the common council, intimating that in case of the abandonment of that kind of property it reverted back to the city with the franchise. Nothing was done by the council at that time. Now, the same question comes up in a more serious form. The entire line has been abandoned, the road bed is in a wretched and dangerous condition, and is owned by a foreign corporation caring little for the safety of our people.

What will be done with the street railway track and company's franchise? Will the city take up the track and sell the iron to pay expenses, or will it endeavor to compel the company to put its road bed in a condition that it will not interfere with driving?

It is further hinted, that the company is aware that its property rights are questioned, and that legal obstacles will prevent the removal of the iron rails, where lies the only value the property now has, and therefore, our people may be surprised some Sunday morning when they see a force of men and teams at work removing the rails.

The city cannot afford to remain quiet and see our streets thus torn up.

It is for the purpose of guarding against any such emergency that Alderman McKay proposes by adopting some measure in the council, that the interests of the property owners of the city may be fully protected.

There are rumors afloat that parties from Chicago will be here in a few days for the purpose of repairing the road bed and resuming operation. All the mules, horses, rolling stock, etc., are still here in the possession of the company. This, however, is only rumor, as no one in the city appears to possess authority to speak for the company. The cars were stored in a first ward barn when the road was abandoned last fall, and the mules and horses were put out in some boarding stable.

Curtis H. Glue has charge of the property of the company in Janesville. He says that he expects an agent of the company here in a few days, when some steps will undoubtedly be taken.

The Janesville people would be pleased with a well equipped street railway, operated for their convenience, but will hardly tolerate a continuance of a line operated wholly for the benefit of foreign speculators, especially when they have it within their power to prevent.

A "REAL LADY" BUT SHE DID SWEAR.

One of the "Inshavogue" Makes a Lively Scene.

One of the ladies in the "Inshavogue" company who was unable to appear in the play on account of her late arrival Monday night became engaged at Laura Winnit, who took the part of "Molly," because Miss Winnit wore the late arrival's costume. She sat in a seat in the parquette circle and viewed the play for a few minutes and then flounced out in a huff and as she swept up the aisle curses long and deep flouted over the audience and cursed those who heard her to open their eyes in surprise. It is also said that the "lady" had been indulging in the flowing bowl, but had not yet succeeded in drowning her sorrow. When she met the manager they had a wordy battle over which the manager chewed a cigar savagely, and the enraged woman wept hot and bitter tears and plenty of them.

The May Bretonne Company played "Two Against One" at Lappin's Opera House last evening. They had a large house and all appeared pleased with the performance. Tomorrow night the company will open at the Myers in "Mersey's Marriage."

One of the lady members of the "Money Med" Company drank too much champagne at Racine and kicked up a big row which terminated in the attempted shooting of the hotel clerk. She had a glorious time while her money lasted.

The Batavia (N. Y.) Times says: The Interstate Milkmaid's Convention, held in our city last evening, was a brilliant success. The picturesque costumes of the maids, their bright tin pails, the unique and coquettish coll all combined to form a most pleasing and realistic scene, while the able discussion on various points of cowology was very entertaining to the large audience that came to hear it.

O, where are you going my pretty maid?

O, to the Milkmaid's convention, kind sir; she said.

O, may I go with you my pretty maid?

O, yes, indeed, kind sir, she said.

Will they give me some supper, my pretty maid?

Yes; for fifteen cents, kind sir, she said.

And what will they give me, my pretty maid?

OIL CARS BY THE MILE.

The Standard Company Collects Vast Numbers of Tanks.

ALL IN NEED OF REPAIRS.

Wisconsin Engineers Must Now Stop for Draw Bridges—"Bill" Cantillon's Name Chosen by a Vote of the Janesville Trainmen.

The story about the storing of Standard tanks at Harvard has been explained. The cars are all being repaired and put in condition for the summer campaign. Several miles of side track are filled with cars waiting for room in the Chicago & Northwestern shops.

Must Stop for Draw Bridges.

Local engineers and conductors on the Chicago & Northwestern road have been notified that investigation is open at Oshkosh and on the Wolf river, and that the usual stop for draw bridges are necessary. During the time that navigation was closed, the stopping rule was not rigidly enforced.

"Bill" Cantillon no Longer.

All the railroad men say that it is "William" Cantillon now. A few days ago it was plain "Bill," but now it is different.

The New Bridge Is Safe.

Yardmaster Bidwell says the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad bridge at the dam is all right and perfectly safe.

Notes from the Yards.

Will Kesting and Michael Heaney, of the Chicago & Northwestern road, are in Chicago a few days.

John Foley, night switchman at the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul yards has his thumb crushed while coupling cars last night.

The railroad boys have long heads. The two or three shovelfuls of cinders that they throw on the crossing at the corner of Center avenue and Pleasant streets, saved pedestrians an endless amount of trouble.

"Foreign" cars are plenty at the Northwestern yards. There were cars from the L. S. & M. S., Wabash, C. & G. T. M. L. L. & W., W. C. C. St. P., M. & O., M. & N. and West Shore, standing on the side tracks at once.

The mud and water in the yards are drying up and switchmen are beginning to look happy as they tread on hard ground. "It is not very pleasant," one of them remarked, "to run beside a car to pull a coupling pin and suddenly step into six or seven inches of mud and water."

"This car is loaded with tables from the Hanson Furniture Co., Janesville, Wis." is the lettering on a large furniture car which stood in the yards of the Chicago & Northwestern railway company yesterday. The Hanson Furniture Co. is turning out some of the finest table work to be found anywhere, and their goods are in good demand in the furniture market.

UNDER THE SHADOW.

Mrs. J. Waters.

Betsy Andrews Waters was born at Bridgewater, Oneida county, New York, April 29, 1819; was married to J. B. Waters June 3, 1843, and came to Johnsonston, Wisconsin, in June, 1846, where she resided until her death, which occurred April 6.

She was one of the pioneers of Rock county, a class of which there are few left. She was a loving mother, a faithful wife and a kind and obliging neighbor being held in high esteem by all her friends.

About twenty years ago she met with an accident which caused her to be an invalid. During those years her sufferings were intense, only God and herself knowing how much she endured. She bore all pain patiently and was always cheerful and uncomplaining. She leaves a husband and four children—two sons and two daughters to mourn her departure. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. H. Davidson, in the Congregational church of Johnsonston, April 8, in the presence of a large congregation of sympathizing friends, the text being John 5 chapters 25th and 29th verses.

A supreme lodge has been formed with Milwaukee men as officers. Subordinate lodges will be organized throughout the state. So far as is known at this time the Royal Adolphus members residing in this city will not join in the formation of a local lodge under the new name, but will join some one of the many similar institutions now working here.

Beloit Not Afraid of Loss.

Beloit Free Press: Talking about the town "losing trade" because of no license, here's a pointer: Last week Friday a Shopper farmer, who has been trading in Janesville always, said he had come to Beloit this time instead of Janesville, and that "lots of his neighbors would send their boys here when we closed the saloons rather than go to Janesville." On Saturday another farmer living nearer Rockford than Beloit, came here remarking, "Farmers will be apt to come here more now."

$20,000 NOT ENOUGH.

Builders Pronounce the School House Appropriation Small.

ARCHITECT IS SATISFIED.

Clerk Burnham Insists that the Twenty Thousand Dollar Appropriation is Ample and that There Will Be No Trouble.

Six bids were received at noon to-day by S. U. Burnham, clerk of the board of education, for building the two new school houses in the first and fifth wards, five being from this city and one from Milwaukee. A special meeting of the board will be held on to-morrow evening at which the bids will be opened and considered.

So far little is known relative to the bids. Those who have examined the plans and specifications say that the buildings cannot be built for the money which has been appropriated.

"I have heard considerable talk," remarked one prominent bidder, "and know what I am talking about, and I say the two buildings will knock the hair right out of that twenty thousand dollar appropriation."

Architect Kirsch, of Milwaukee, was in the city today in consultation with Mr. Burnham, but had nothing to say relating to the costs of the buildings.

"I have received six bids for the work. I do not take any stock in the talk that the bids will all exceed the appropriation," said Clerk Burnham. "We have examined the matter very carefully and you will see that everything is all right when the bids are opened."

"I have seen the figures of several bidders," said one contractor, "and I am fully satisfied that the bids will all exceed the appropriation, unless some bidder proposes to throw in his work for the sake of getting the award."

THE BANJO CLUB MAY DIE.

Madison States Fear their Organization May Not Survive.

MADISON, April 15.—[Special Correspondence.]—Wisconsin University's Glee and Banjo Clubs may not take their annual tour next year. George Main, through whose efforts the banjo club has become what it is, will not be able to be with the boys again, and next year's trip is therefore very uncertain. Edward S. Main and Elton Cassaday, who have both been with the club four years, will also be unable to play next year which also adds to the uncertainty.

The clubs returned from their fifth annual tour about the cities of the northwest Friday, and Saturday they appeared before a large and delighted audience at Library Hall. The boys were feted and feasted everywhere, and about paid their expenses.

They had large audiences in Milwaukee and Chicago, in fact in all the places where they played except at Minneapolis and Superior. In these cities their lack of success was largely due to the efforts of the Minnesota Banjo Club who had made a very unsuccessful trip previously, and who very unjustly attributed their failure in some way to the Madison club. They therefore used their influence, which is, in Minneapolis of course, quite considerable, against the Madison musicians.

The whist players
